

18TH SACCA CONGRESS

"Disruptors: Cooperative economy for human empowerment"

24th to 27th October, 2017

Venue: BINGU International Conference Center in Lilongwe, Malawi

George Ombado
(ICUDE)
CEO ACCOSCA

The African Confederation of Cooperative Savings and Credit Association (ACCOSCA) working with the Malawi Union of Savings and Credit Cooperatives (MUSCCO) will be hosting the 18th SACCA Congress. ACCOSCA is the African apex of SACCOs and is mandated to and champions for Financial Inclusion in Africa through the Cooperative Business model. Our theme for this year speaks to a cooperative economy. We are keen to see that no one is left behind.

We must all endeavor to work towards promoting the Cooperative Business model as the working alternative for Financial Inclusion in Africa. It is against this background that ACCOSCA will be hosting the 18th SACCA Congress in October 2017 between 24th and 27th to champion for a Cooperative economy. This meeting themed "Disruptors: Cooperative economy for human empowerment" is to take place at the BINGU International Conference Center in Lilongwe, Malawi. We expect the participation of over 1000 cooperators and stakeholders from across the world. The meeting particularly targets to:

1. Create awareness of the Cooperative economy and the possibilities that come with it
2. Promote the Human Empowerment agenda as the basis for Cooperative business
3. Promote financial inclusion by encouraging involvement of marginalized groups
4. Create innovative ideas that will sustain cooperatives as a solution to poverty.

We welcome you to join us in promoting Financial Cooperatives in Africa.
